

Speaking Under Stress + Developing Credibility

Sahil Deo, Christopher Gandrud, and Kevin Young

31 October 2014

Research overview

Understanding how monetary policymakers' use communication (speeches + press releases) to respond to their political principals and develop credibility.

Questions we are interested in

- ▶ What non-policy responses do monetary policymakers use to respond to stress from their political principals?
- ▶ What do they consider

Main issues we are trying to tackle

- ▶ Integrating disparate types of information, e.g. texts from multiple sources, locational data, macroeconomic indicators.